PROFILE

I am a Biochemistry graduate from Adekunle Ajasin University with hands-on experience in production, laboratory work, and quality control. During my time as a production assistant, I participated in the processing, packaging, and inspection of products, ensuring they met established quality standards. I am a fast learner and adapt quickly to new equipment and processes. I work well in teams, communicate effectively with colleagues and supervisors, and pay close attention to detail to maintain consistent product quality. I am committed to supporting safe, organized, and efficient production operations while ensuring my professional growth and contributing to the success of the company
